

ABOUT GINGER JOHNSON

“spectacular energy”

“the best keynote I’ve ever heard”

“endless supply of positivity”

The best way to describe Ginger Johnson is in her audiences’ own words.

Come for the “spectacular energy” and “endless supply of positivity,” stay for the “insightful, practical, and useful tools” that “remind you why you love the work you do” and leave you “motivated to connect on a deeper level.” Leaders describe Ginger as “completely unique to anything you will see from any other speaker you hire.”

With unmatched energy and enthusiasm, Ginger has delighted groups from three to thousands — online and on-premises — across the globe. From grassroots organizations leading community change to Fortune 500 companies fueling industry transformation, Ginger’s sweet spot is tailoring each experience to the unique needs of the people she’s connecting with now.

Beyond speaking, writing, and teaching on the power of human connection, you can find Ginger foraging, canning, or pickling in her Montana kitchen. (She’s never met a vegetable she won’t put in a jar.) And she’s known to throw one heckuva dinner party. Will you be her next guest?
